

Declaration

We have worked well as a team on this project. The work has been evenly split up with constant consultation between both partners on all workings and decisions. Over 100 commits have been made in total with the contributions overall being largely similar. For an in-depth look at what each partner contributed for each commit refer to GitHub otherwise here is a small concise table regarding which sections each partner was responsible for (it should be noted that both partners helped each other even on their own sections).
